

DRACYOR

GYÖNGYVÉR

Product - Info

The story of the German band DRACYOR actually begins in 1998. At that time, Marcel Schiborr, alias "Boromir", wrote the song "Midnight Bride", a composition with a distinct gothic vibe. Due to the fact that the guitarist and composer was active in other stylistically different bands, it took until 2018 to write a complete Gothic Metal album to this song. While writing the album, Marcel looked for other musicians, with whom he could realize his musical concept. By visiting many concerts, he finally found six musicians with whom he founded the Band DRACYOR.

An expressive photo of the model Libertina Grimm (cover of the album) inspired the versatile musician to the lyrical concept of the album. The imaginative story tells about a vampire family whose leader Lord Levente is madly in love with the human woman Gyöngyvér. He woos her and chooses her to be his midnight bride by turning her into a vampire. However, he does not know that Gyöngyvér planned her transformation and seduced him into making her his wife. Gyöngyvér feels, that she is destined for a new form of existence that unites both human and vampiric strengths and abilities. For this change she needs Levente's powers. There are other characters who will join the events from now on. These are Levente's siblings, the eldest of the vampire clan and two humans, Boromir (Gyöngyvér's lover) and the castle manager László.

This emotional story about love, passion and power is staged musically in an energetic, varied mixture of Gothic-, Symphonic and Dark Metal elements with a touch of classic music and carried by the contrast between the clear and expressive voice of the singer Martina Grasmück alias "Gyöngyvér" and the sinister growls of the singer Björn Luig alias "Lord Levente".

The conceptual debut of DRACYOR will be released worldwide on August 27th. on the label SCARE-Records as download and stream in all well-known shops and on CD by selected sellers. Videos were produced of three songs from the album and can be viewed on YouTube. The release will be promoted via MPN (Music Promotion Network) and presented to all relevant metal magazines and fanzines. Further information at: www.dracyor.de
